SEN. WAYNE L. MORSE

Sen. Wayne L. Morse (Dem.—Oregon) will deliver the annual Jacoby Brotherhood Lecture on March 27, Chancellor James H. Halsey has announced.

Sen. Morse, one of the most outspoken congressmen in Washington, is chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee on Latin American Affairs and the Education Subcommittee.

During the 88th Congress, Morse was a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Public and Labor Welfare, Small Business and the District of Columbia.

The Jacoby Lecture series was established in 1952 by the late Frank Jacoby, one of Bridgeport's leading merchants and philanthropists, to "further the brotherhood and equality of men regardless of color, race or creed."

Previous Jacoby lecturers have included: Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the late Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, General Carlos P. Romulo, Gov. Harold E. Stassen, Hon. Paul G. Hoffman, Gov. Abraham Ribicoff, Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, The Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

One-time Republican, independent and now a Democrat, Sen. Morse is a "farm boy who made good."

Disillusioned with the prospects for liberalism in the Republican party, Morse resigned his office.

Following a period as an independent, Morse joined the Democratic party. In 1955 and 1962 he was reelected to the Senate by decisive margins.

He holds Ph.D. and M.A. degrees from the University of Wisconsin, an LL.B. degree from the University of Minnesota and a J.D. degree from Columbia University.

Sen. Morse is the father of three children.

The program will be open to the general public and tickets can be obtained from the Public Relations Office in Cortright Hall beginning February 25.

Yank Phones Again?

The new intercom system in the Men's Dorm is in danger of being taken out again.

After only three weeks of use, it has been discovered that one of the phones has been stolen.

This comes on top of a series of acts of vandalism that have been occurring lately in the dormitories. In past weeks, clocks, lamps, and other small items have been disappearing from the lounges, as well as large items, such as a couch and a table.

Dorm director Kevin O'Sullivan is disappointed that the students cannot treat these possessions in a more mature manner. "Most of the men are very trustworthy," he says. "It is a shame that they might have to suffer for the actions of a few."

Vice Pres. Albert E. Diem also was upset when told of the problem. "This intercom system was put in on the condition that it would be properly treated," he said, "and now it has already been misused. I'm very concerned."

The new Men's Dorm previously had an intercom system, but it was taken out last year when it was discovered that students were crossing the wires and using the phones for long distance calls.

Coed Aims for Europe Via Festival Contest

MARY LOU CUBELLI

Mary Lou Cubelli, a junior majoring in elementary education, has been named one of five finalists in the Miss Gran Carnevale contest of Bridgeport.

The contest is one of the highlights of the annual Gran Carnevale contest of Bridgeport.

The contest is one of the highlights of the annual Gran Carnevale Italian Festival which will run Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 16 and 17.

Miss Cubelli is being sponsored in the contest by Sigma Alpha fraternity.

Instead of using paper for votes, money will be used. The girl receiving the most money (one cent equals one vote) will be crowned Miss Gran Carnevale.

All proceeds from the contest will be used for establishing a day camp and sending needy children to this camp.

Scholars Convo Wednesday

The annual Dana Scholars convocation introducing the new recipients of Dana Scholarships will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 20, in the social hall of the Student Center.

Preceding the convocation, a luncheon will be held for the Scholars. Dr. Charles A. Dana, originator of the scholarships, will be presented with a gift as a token of the students' appreciation.

Vice-Pres. Albert E. Diem, adviser to the Dana Scholars, will be guest speaker at the convocation.

Following the introduction of the Scholars by Mrs. Clarence D. L. Ropp, secretary of the Dana Scholars selection Committee, Dr. Dana will present the students with their pins and certificates.

The Dana scholarships were established by Dr. Dana in 1960 to provide financial assistance to students who show academic promise, good character, leadership traits and evidence of future success in business, industry, or the professions. There are now 47 Dana Scholars, one of which graduated last semester.

In order to qualify for a Dana scholarship, a student must have achieved sophomore status and have a 2.8 grade point ratio.

In addition to the University, Dana scholarships have been established at Guilford College, Queens College and Davidson College, all in North Carolina.

Attendance at the convocation is compulsory for all freshmen.

Dropouts Exceed 100, Semester Report Shows

More than 100 students dropped out of the University as of January 30, the Office of Student Personnel said this week.

Some left because of poor grades, ill health or inability to adjust to campus life, and others transferred to other colleges and universities. Four persons, three of them students in the College of Education, left to get married.

Sixty-two of the 131 drop-outs were members of the freshman class, 36 were sophomores, and 23 were juniors. There were also seven seniors and three special students who quit.

Several students left school because of financial difficulties, three left because of armed forces obligations, and there were a few who dropped out because they "didn't like" the University.

Forty-five of these students were enrolled in the College of Arts and Science, 37 were in the College of Business Administration, 27 studied at the College of Education, and eight were in the College of Engineering.

There were also seven dropouts from the Arnold College, five each from the College of Nursing and the Weylister Secretarial School, and two from the Fones School of Dental Hygiene.

A Vote for Mary Lou

It is not often that we as a university have an opportunity to demonstrate our interest in community affairs, but we may now do so by helping to establish a summer camp for underprivileged children.

A university student named Mary Lou Cubelli is running for queen in the Italian festival contest this weekend (see story, page one). A vote of a penny, 10 votes for a dime, or 100 votes for a dollar may send her to Europe while sending some needy children to camp this summer.

Lets show the community that we're interested in their benefit programs and their underprivileged children. Let's put our change in the jars around campus and get Mary Lou to Europe.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Couldn't Park

To the Editor:

I would like to call the students' attention to the situation that prevailed this morning (February 7) at the Student Center parking area. When I drove up to the entrance of the parking area, I was informed that we were not permitted to park there today. Therefore, I had to park four blocks from school. I don't mind walking, but I do mind being late to class and missing part of a lecture due to a traffic jam around the area of the parking lot. The situation is absurd! I see no reason for paying for a parking tag and then being told that you cannot park in the prescribed areas. Because Mrs. Hotchkiss is entertaining at the Student Center, there is no reason for the students to be banned from their parking lot. We paid for the privilege to park and we should not have that right taken away, unless the parking committee cares to refund our fee for the parking facilities.

DONNA BRAUNFELD
 (ED. note)—The Scribe asked Elmer Maher, chief of security for the University, to explain exactly why the lot was closed. He said that the National Association of Manufacturers was having a luncheon meeting in the building, and he made the decision to close the lot so the anticipated 40 cars would have a place to park between 9:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

"The students," he said, "could have used any number of other parking areas," including the lots behind the Technology building and the library. "After all," he said, "these are a bunch of important people."

The Scribe encourages anyone else who has an opinion on the situation to either voice their feelings in this column or contact Maher personally. His office is in the Department of Buildings and Grounds, ext. 260.

YAF At It Again

To the Editor:

The little men in the YAF are at it again. An unsigned article, alleged to be from the national headquarters of the American Medical Association recently appeared in Renascence. This article criticized statements made by me about the AMA.

A statement in the original article was that the AMA "opposed compulsory vaccinations for smallpox in public schools because it felt that vaccinations should be given in doctor's offices." The reply of the AMA did not mention public vaccination but only said that the organization did not oppose vaccination. The AMA has supported compulsory vaccination for smallpox in theory but opposed it in practice. It has in the past opposed free vaccinations at public expense. This has excluded large numbers of people from availing themselves of this service.

The writer for the AMA states that it "did not oppose social security or Blue Cross." On the contrary the AMA opposed both when they were first proposed and attempted to link Blue Cross, Social Security, Workman's compensation etc. with the "horror" of socialized medicine. (for more on this see The Nation magazine, Feb. 17, 1962, pp. 132-135).

The AMA also failed to mention that Dr. Peterson's figures were adjusted on life spans and infant mortality rates.

All in all, the article marks a shoddy defense of the American Medical Association.

Station Gratified

To the Editor:

On behalf of the entire University radio station staff, I would like to take this opportunity to thank each and every member of the department of buildings and grounds who contributed their skill and effort to the construction of our recently completed broadcasting studios.

These facilities are, without a doubt, some of the finest I have ever seen for the use of a college radio station.

This is only one example of the exceptional cooperation we have been so fortunate in receiving while working on this project.

The Museum of Modern Art in New York has chosen Prof. John Day's painting, "Attica," to be included in their lending service as a result of his recent one man show. The Staten Island Museum also has chosen two paintings for its rental collection. Over half of the works in the exhibition were sold, including one to actor Anthony Perkins for his collection.

All full-time students who have completed two semesters at the University are entitled to a year book and are requested to pick them up in the Wistarian office on the third floor of Old Alumni Hall.

Anyone wishing to join the staff of the University Radio Station, should visit the offices on the third floor of Old Alumni Hall building between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday thru Saturday.

The Fones School of Dental Hygiene is offering a new course in the study of dental materials and dental assisting. The new course will provide freshmen students with an added opportunity to utilize demonstration room facilities.

An exhibit of 60 Japanese wood block prints from the collection of the Olsen Foundation is currently on display in the Cultural Center of the library. The exhibit will continue through the end of February.

Tickets for the Sweetheart Dance tomorrow night are free and can be obtained at the Reception desk in the Student Center by showing your I.D. card. The dance will be held in the Social Room of the Student Center. Music will be provided by Pat Dorn.

The first make-up exam date is Saturday at 9:30 in Fones 100. Students taking the make-up exams must register this week.

Attendance at campus movies, shown on weekends in the student center, will have to be controlled on a much stricter basis from now on. Men's Senate president William Sinclair announced this week. In the past, the movies have been held up for several minutes, to allow stragglers to get in, often resulting in overcrowding.

The Historical Society will hold its first meeting of the semester on Friday, Feb. 15th at 12:00 in room 203 of Alumni Hall. Speakers and topic will be announced.

"What is a Mormon?" is the title of a lecture and film to be presented by the Elders of the Trumbull Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints Wednesday at 1 p.m. in Dana 102.

Activities Bulletin Offered To Keep Students Informed

A new information service is being offered University students to keep them up on the activities on campus.

Sold by subscription, the "Student Bulletin" started publication this semester, sponsored by the office of Student Activities. It will be mailed weekly to arrive on Saturdays.

"The chief purpose of the bulletin", says editor Joel Siskovic, "is to keep the commuter student aware of the happenings so he won't desert the campus every evening and weekend."

Subscription rates are one dollar per semester to cover costs and subscription blanks are available at the information desk in the Student Center.

Cagers Thump Brandeis, 94-81, But Rider Snaps Win 'Streak'

By DICK SHARPE

Last Saturday the Purple Knight varsity basketball squad lost to Rider College, 89-74, in a Tri-State League game to snap UB's two-game winning streak. The defeat left UB with three victories in 17 games, and a 1-5 league record.

UB's Ted Coulson took scoring honors by pouring 10 field goals and six free throws through the hoop for 26 markers. Co-captain Harvey Herer tossed in nine points and Howie Bernstein, Roy Robbins, Dale Seiler and Joe Mandy each contributed eight points in the losing effort.

The Purple Knights put together two successive victories for the first time this season, as they trounced Brandeis University, 94-81, on February 7.

UB led throughout the game, building a 45-38 halftime lead and increasing it to 70-61 midway in the second half. This was by far the best game the Knights have played all season in the opinion of this writer.

Bernstein put on a tremendous display of shooting and playmaking as he led the Knights with 24 points. Coulson and Pickering each registered 19 markers for the victors.

On Saturday the Knights travel to New Jersey to play Tri-State leader Fairleigh Dickinson. To date, Fairleigh is tied with Fairfield and Rider for the League title, each having a 5-1 record. The New Jerseyites only loss came at the hands of Fairfield by a 45-39 score.

Fairleigh is led by Lou Ravettine and Brendon Barba, both averaging better than 13 points per game. Captain Lou Alberto has been sidelined with a hand injury but is expected to return to action for Saturday's game. Center John Parada is the leading rebounder on the squad.

The UBites are in eighth place in the league standings and will be attempting to move up a notch.

'Y' Nips Frosh, 87-82

Last Thursday evening the UB frosh were defeated by a strong Sportsmen quintet, 87-82. Five starters for the Sportsmen hit double figures to sew up the victory.

Former UB stars Joe Yasinski and Joe Troiano, returning to the scene of many fine, past performances, scored 20 and 13 points respectively.

The Purple Knight freshmen played a fine game, but yielded to the experience of the older Sportsmen. Freshman star Bill O'Dowd continued his great scoring pace as he hit for 26 points. Fran Sullivan tallied 19 points.

Playing Saturday without top scorers O'Dowd and Ken Grenier, the UB yearlings were defeated by a strong Rider quintet, 108-71. High-scoring Fran Sullivan had a good night, as he chipped in with 26 points to share scoring honors with Riders' Ray Hasler.

Gym Opens Doors For Saturday Use

The University gymnasium will be open on Saturdays this semester for use by both men and women students.

Hours are 10 a.m. to noon and 1-4 p.m.

This is part of a drive by the Men's Senate to provide more recreational facilities for students on campus over the weekends.

The Men's Senate also provides entertainment by sponsoring a movie of the month, shown in the student room of Alumni Hall.

Plans are also in motion to form either a basketball team or volleyball team in hopes that other campus organizations or individual students will also form teams to take advantage of the gymnasium facilities.
